New York Democratic State Convention opens auspiciously.

Canning Crowd in the Majority and Ready to Rule.

X. L. September 27.—The convention opened under very favorable auspices, was cool and cloudy, and there were no decorations in the hall.

A few wreaths of smilax, which took their seats in a dignified manner, each seat being with the ticket to correspond.

Kelly entered the hall by the Tammany and Irish delegations in the gallery.

A noticeable fact that John
